

Clone a git repository to another directory

To clone to another directory at git, just add the target directory in the clone command.

To clone to the present working directory

```
git clone https://github.com/link.git
```

To clone to another directory

```
git clone https://github.com/link.git ../folder1/folder2
```